✈ Kayun roam about in the wilderness. He was always on the look out for food and shelter. Sometimes he slept in a cave. At other times he would find shelter under the trees. Food was sometimes scarce too but somehow or other he managed to survive as he is a good hunter of wild rabbits and other animals. Kayun is self-sufficient and he himself provides for all his basic needs.

✈ Majus had some extra animal hides of good quality and was looking for one of his mates Yank who needed hides for his family. When the two friends met, Yank was glad to obtain the surplus of hides but all he could give Majus for the hides were a chicken and a bag of maize. Majus did not agree to receive these in payment. For one thing, in his opinion the hides were worth much more than that and anyhow he already had enough poultry and maize.
