Tiggy's Pet
by Charles Weary

Everybody knows that cats chase mice. And what's more, they catch them and eat them too. At least normal cats do ... but Tiggy is no ordinary kitten. To everyone's embarrassment he prefers tinned cat food to real mice. When at last he does catch a mouse, he decides not to eat it, but to keep it as a pet!

Read about Tiggy, Jinny the mouse and their adventures.

A delicious, humorous story!

Seaside Surprise and Other Stories
by
Marie Smith

The wonderful sea holds many secrets that are only revealed when the moon is shining.

A delightful collection of short stories for the summer holidays.

The Countryside Children
by
Adele Brown

When their father is mysteriously taken away, John, Peter and Pam have to move with their mother to the countryside. A nearby farm becomes the centre of their new life, bringing them not only fun and adventure, but an important new friend who changes their lives.

What adventures await the three children?

Read the passage below, which is divided into two sections. Then, answer the questions that follow each section.

Section 1

Amelia Earhart was one of the world’s most famous pilots. She broke records and showed great courage during her short life. She disappeared while she was on a flight around the world. Amelia Earhart’s family consisted of her father Edward, her mother Amy, Amelia and her younger sister Muriel. Amelia’s nickname ‘Meelie’ remained with her throughout her life.

(paragraph 1)

Born on 24th July, 1897, Amelia was daring even when she was a child. When she was seven years old she wanted to ride an elephant, but her mother said, “No”. However, she allowed her to ride a Ferris wheel instead. A short time later, Amelia, Muriel, and a boy, Ralphie, built a roller coaster in their garden. It ran from the top of a three-metre tool shed to the ground. Their Uncle Carl, whom they called ‘Nicey’, helped them with it.

Amelia took the first ride and felt as if she were ‘flying’, but when their mother came out and saw how unsafe it was, she made them tear it down. To make up for the loss of their roller coaster, their parents gave them a swing, and Uncle Carl made a merry-go-round for the girls. Their mother made tracksuits for them to wear and encouraged their outdoor activities.

(paragraph 2)

A tool shed is a small building that is used for storing things such as garden tools.

A Ferris wheel, also known as a big wheel, is a structure consisting of a rotating upright wheel with passenger cars.

Amelia and her sister loved animals, and it hurt them when they saw animals being abused. Once she was very upset at their neighbour, Mr. Oldham, because he had been cruel to his horse.

(paragraph 3)

Section 2

In 1921, Amelia began taking flying lessons. She worked in an office to pay for the lessons and bought her first plane that summer. She told Muriel, her sister, that she thought that in the future the cockpits of planes would be covered, and planes would be large enough to carry 10 or 12 passengers. They would even run according to a timetable.

She loved travelling so much that she designed clothing suitable for travel and even designed some light weight luggage for air travel. (paragraph 4)

In 1932, one year after her flight as a passenger across the Atlantic, she crossed alone from Canada to Ireland. It was a dangerous flight due to the fact that one of the instruments on her latest plane wasn't working. She didn't know how high she was above the ocean, but she arrived safely and was awarded many honours in Europe. (paragraph 5)

Amelia's last flight began in June 1937. She and her friend Fred Noonan set out to fly around the world in a twin-engine plane. The two of them took off from Miami in America to South America. Then they crossed the South Atlantic Ocean to Dakar in Africa. From there they had to go to Thailand and then to Australia. However, on the way, radio contact with the plane was lost. A final message from Amelia was received on 2nd July, 1937 at 8.45 a.m. Amelia's voice was described as frantic. (paragraph 6)

Although there was a long search, the American Navy never found a trace of either the plane or the pilots. After 16 days the Navy called off the search. Their disappearance is still a mystery. (paragraph 7)
