

She needs to seek help from the school councillor who would help her to accept who she is, and see herself in a positive light. (2 marks)

Award marks for other answers which you think are appropriate.

b)

i) Yes. (1 mark)

They are actions of self-harm because they put his life in danger without any need. (2 marks)

ii) It could be that the sport itself helps him release tension and thus he feels that by practising it he is engaging in self-care. (1 mark)

iii) He can continue practising the sport but he should ensure that he takes the necessary precautions to keep safe. (3 marks)

4. This is Aristotle. He had a theory about what one has to do to achieve happiness. What is this theory called? Explain this theory. Give an example to show how you can apply this theory in everyday life. (6 marks)

Name of theory – Eudaimonia – (1 mark)

Explanation of Theory – (3 marks)

Example – (2 marks)

5. I have the duty to speak for those who do not have a voice. Discuss this statement in about 200 words.

	Criteria	Marks
Knowledge	The student shows knowledge, by giving examples, of those who do not have a voice.	2
Comprehension	The student shows understanding of the issues relating to those who are voiceless in our society.	2
Application	The student can apply his or her knowledge and understanding to discuss the question.	2
Analysis	The student can identify moral arguments that address the ethical issues of speaking for those who do not have a voice.	4